

Pro-link GLOBAL Visa & Immigration Services Adds Communications Specialist to their U.S. Global Immigration Team in Their Continuing Efforts to Bridge the World with Increased Global Immigration Accessibility

Rhonda Zimmer, freelance writer, memoirist, experienced U.S. immigration Paralegal, and graduate of the University of Kansas recently joined Pro-link GLOBAL, the boutique global immigration service provider for U.S. Immigration attorneys and Global Corporations.

Phoenix, AZ (PRWeb) October 9, 2008 -- With Pro-link GLOBAL Visa and Immigration Services' continuous development, it is a pleasure to announce its newest addition, Rhonda Zimmer, who will be the Communication Specialist based out of the Arizona office.

Prior to Rhonda working as a Paralegal for a reputable U.S. law firm and managing an extensive caseload for its largest client, she earned a degree in Organizational Communication Studies with a concentration in Marketing from the University of Kansas where she was a Facilitator and Editor for a Group Leadership Practicum Writing Course. She also obtained Legal Certification, with honors, from Topeka Platt College; is certified by the National Management and Communications Training Program; is a Rapport Leadership International Master Graduate; a Freelance Writer; and, Memoirist.

These skills together with more than twenty years of combined customer service, administration and legal experience make Rhonda a great asset in helping set a clear and concise pathway of communications for Pro-link to successfully set and achieve its goals.

Rhonda will also be the point person on the Business Development Team for all the Requests for Proposals (RFP), a role that has required a dedicated resource as Pro-link GLOBAL has grown over the past year.
